

Case Study

Halliwells

About Halliwells

Halliwells has experienced rapid growth during the last two to three years through both organic growth and merger with smaller partnerships. It now encompasses approximately 1,100 employees in 4 UK offices. This growth is expected to continue at a fast pace over the coming months.

Requirements

Whilst absorbing many new employees and office locations, Halliwells wanted to ensure consistency and remain compliant with current Health and Safety legislation.

“As Halliwells grew we needed to ensure our standards on Health and Safety remained high – to achieve this we wanted reliable advice from an experienced partner.”

“EDP helps us to achieve our Health and Safety goals consistently.”

Halliwells

Pam McKay,
Facilities Director,
Halliwells Manchester

Solution

EDP has been Halliwells' Health and Safety partner for the last ten years, supporting them on all essential training and risk assessment required for new legislation.

By working in partnership with EDP the awareness of Health and Safety has been raised and has helped Halliwells identify an improved approach to deliver consistency for Health and Safety nationally within the firm. This included creating a new role for a National Health and Safety Officer. This solution allows Halliwells to co-ordinate all the efforts of the Facilities Managers in Liverpool, Manchester, Sheffield and London ensuring that the level of competence and approach for each office was standardised.

The best possible advice!

EDP continues to support Halliwells and there is a clear and fast escalation process in place with EDP providing instant and ongoing support and advice for incidents. Halliwells rely on EDP's expertise and specialist knowledge to provide proactive advice on the best approach to keep their employees safe.

"As a law firm we know the importance of good advice and EDP has always provided us with the best possible advice!"

"We have total confidence in them and their entire team has always been very helpful and professional. EDP is an excellent and professional company who we trust to handle our needs and requirements efficiently."

Pam McKay, Facilities Director, Halliwells Manchester