“We are in good company having EDP as a partner! We like the fact they also work with other leading ITC companies such as Microsoft and Dell. Although we all have unique issues, we share many similar areas so it is reassuring that EDP understands that.

We work closely with Microsoft and respect their business so we were particularly pleased to see that EDP was recently awarded the coveted Microsoft ‘Quality Excellence’ vendor award. This further proves to me that we are working with the best possible Health and Safety Company!”
